

Landulph School

Special Educational Needs Information Report

At Landulph School, we are an inclusive school where the children and adults know each other well. We take pride in our pastoral care and supporting all children to achieve their very best in all areas of the curriculum regardless of their ability or specific needs. In order to do this, we track children closely and support children throughout their time here at Landulph.

We strongly believe that quality first teaching is vital and for some children, there are occasions when further additional support may be needed to help them achieve their targets.

The Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator is:
Mrs Esther Best - Head of School

The Special Educational Needs Teaching Assistant is:
Mrs Sandra Plumb

The Special Educational Needs Governor is:
Mrs Emma Dorrian

The Special Educational Needs Advisor from the Multi Academy Trust is:
Mr Jeremy Skelton at Saltash.net Community School

Roles & Responsibilities of the special Needs Co-ordinator (SENCO)

A SENCO is responsible for the operation of the Special Educational Needs Policy and co-ordination of specific provision made to support individual children with SEND (Special Educational Needs & Disability). The SENCO liaises with staff to monitor the progress of pupils and plan further interventions where progress is slower than expected. Links are set up with a wide range of external agencies that are able to give more specialised advice and services. If you have any concerns regarding SEN matters, do not hesitate to contact the SENCO.

There are many SEN terms that are abbreviated which can lead to confusion. Below is a glossary of the most used SEN terms.

What is a local offer?

First introduced in the Green Paper (March 2011), the local offer identifies services available to support disabled children, children with SEN and their families in Cornwall. To find Cornwall's local offer follow the link below:

www.cornwallfisdirectory.org.uk

What are the different types of SEND catered for at the school?

Landulph School will endeavour to meet the needs of all children whom the Local Authority place in mainstream education. Every effort will be made to ensure that reasonable adjustments are made where necessary to cater for students with physical or learning disabilities.

In deciding whether to admit a child with learning difficulties, the Governing Body must be satisfied that the school can genuinely meet their needs as individuals and can at the same time continue to meet the needs of other children.

What shall I do if I think my child may have SEN?

The class teacher is the initial point of contact for responding to parental concerns. The class teacher will then liaise with the SENCO and a way forward will be established.

How does the school identify pupils with SEND?

We know when pupils need extra help if:

- concerns are raised by parents/carers and/or teacher and/or child;
- limited progress is being made;
- standardised assessments highlight areas of difficulty;
- There is a change in the pupils behaviour or progress.

If pupils have previously been identified with SEND, we work with people who already know them and use information already available to support their needs.

We assess children in a wide range of ways including:

- Observational, formative assessment in class
- Marking and analysing children's recorded work
- Completing standardised tests
- Formally assessing children at least termly
- Reviewing children's self-assessment comments through a child-teacher dialogue in books and orally

How does the school assess and review the progress of children with SEND?

- As a school we track and analyse your child's progress in learning against age-related expectations on at least a termly basis
- The class teacher continually assesses your child and notes areas where they are improving and where further support is needed.
- Pupil Progress meetings are held each term with the class teacher and Head of School. In these meetings children who are not making at least expected progress are highlighted and a plan is created.
- Where specific needs are apparent, the school has a range of assessments which can be used to explore a child's strengths and difficulties in more detail.
- The SENCO reports to the Governing Body. We have a Governor who is responsible for SEN, who meets regularly with the SENCO and attends meetings where possible, and whom also reports back to the Governing Body.

How does the school evaluate the effectiveness of its provision for children with SEND?

In addition to the information in the previous section above, the following systems are in place:

- Termly SEN review meetings occur between the SENCO/SEN TA and class teacher to review individual's progress, current provision and future provision
- Regular monitoring of SEN provision in classrooms occurs by the SENCO
- Regular monitoring of SEN provision in interventions occurs by the SENCO
- Entry and exit data is recorded for children taking part in interventions to evaluate impact and effectiveness

What is the school's approach to teaching children with SEND?

We passionately believe that all teachers are the teachers of children with SEND. High Quality Teaching is a non-negotiable for every child in our school. There is an expectation that teachers will be highly aware of the learning needs of all children and will differentiate effectively their teaching strategies and resources.

The SENco will liaise with external professionals where appropriate and will work with staff to ensure that every child is able to access the curriculum.

What adaptations to curriculum, teaching and the learning environment are available?

- High quality class teaching.
- All learning opportunities are highly differentiated
- Support with managing and understanding behaviour
- Support with health needs and/or disabilities
- Whole school curriculum adaptation to support inclusion
- Specialist teaching and interventions (group or individual as appropriate) including Phonological Awareness and Speech and Language support.
- Precision teaching (highly focused learning programme)
- Specialist subject teachers from Saltash.net Community School.
- Consideration as to how children learn best and planning activities to meet this.
- Collaborative working with external agencies as required
- A dedicated SEN TA to meet the needs of those children who have planned interventions in place, including those who have undergone statutory assessment.
- Visual resources personalised and used to meet individual needs e.g visual timetables, 'Now and Next' boards, Task Management boards and timers
- ICT resources personalised and used to meet individual needs e.g computer programs, dictation software and special education needs Applications for tablets
- Sensory resources personalised and used to meet individual needs e.g chewy, weighted toy and ear defenders
- Motor needs resources personalised and used to meet individual needs e.g wobble cushion, writing slope and pencil grips
- Specialist equipment as needed in response to individuals needs and from external advice

What support is available for improving social and emotional development of children with SEND?

- There is a separate Spiritual Moral Social Cultural Policy that should be read in conjunction with this information report that all staff adhere to.
- Children work through a systematic PSHE programme using a variety of programmes including SEAL from the Foundation Stage through to Year Six.
- We commission the services of an Educational Psychologist, Behaviour Support, Anti Bullying Cornwall and other external agencies when appropriate.

How does the school involve children in meeting their SEND needs?

- Children are routinely asked to self-assess and reflect on their learning achievements as well as thinking of a next step during the course of their daily learning journey.
- Children who have a Class Alert Plan or an SEN Support Plan (previously an IEP) review their progress with adults in school on an informal and very regular day-to-day basis.
- Children who have a Class Alert Plan or an SEN Support Plan (previously an IEP) review their progress at review points through the year (minimum 3 x per year) at an age-appropriate level. Children's viewpoints are recorded by the child or adult if appropriate.
- Children attend (if appropriate) SEND termly review meetings.
- Children attend Parents' Evening meetings (Autumn and Spring terms).
- Children review their learning targets on an ongoing basis, updating targets in their Literacy and Mathematics books.
- All children are provided with the opportunity to be voted onto the School Council and as well as holding other positions of responsibility, by their class or school.

How does the school involve parents/carers in meeting the needs of children who have SEND?

- You are welcome to make an appointment to meet with either the class teacher, SENCO/Head of School at any time throughout the year to discuss how your child is getting on. We can offer advice and practical ways that you can help to support your child at home.
- Parents/Carers are invited to termly SEND planning and review meetings where current provision will be reviewed and new provision plans made.
- You will always be given copies of your child's SEN Support Plan (previously IEP) as well as any reports from external agencies.
- Regular contact happens between home and school
- Parents/Carers are invited to Parents' Evening meetings (Autumn and Spring terms)
- If your child has a statement, EHCP (Education Healthcare Plan), formal meetings will happen at least annually and a report will be written and shared with you.

How accessible is the school to children with SEND?

- Physical accessibility
- Facilities for personal care including accessible disabled toilet facilities by the main playground door
- Specialist teaching areas
- Our school has an adopted accessibility policy

What extra-curricular activities are available for children with SEND?

At Landulph School we are proud to be able to offer a very wide range of extra-curricular activities and off-site visits that happen throughout the year. These are available to every child, including those with SEND.

How will the school support children with SEND to change classes or move onto a new school?

- Teachers liaise with parents/carers sharing information and preparing the pupil in advance of the move
- Teachers and the SENCO pay particular attention to preparing pupils with SEND for transfer to the next class or secondary school
- We run a transition programme for all children in the final half term of the summer term where the children meet their new class teacher/TA/classroom for one afternoon weekly for 5 consecutive weeks. This includes preschool children joining us in September
- Information is shared from primary SENCO to secondary SENCOs prior to transfer
- We encourage all new children to visit the new school/class prior to starting
- Where appropriate additional visits can be arranged (at times with a staff member)
- Where appropriate specifically tailored transition programmes will be put in place to support a smooth transition. Often secondary schools also run transition packages for more vulnerable children.
- We can write 'social stories' for children if transition is likely to be challenging
- For transition to EYFS (Early Years Foundation Stage) see EYFS policy
- If your child has an Statement/EHCP a review will be used as a transition planning meeting to which we will invite staff from the new school
- Transition between year groups and key stages within the school will be dealt with as part of our annual programme of transition and handover to the next class teacher

How are school staff trained and supported to work with children with SEND?

- Within the school we have a culture of sharing good practice and expertise. This enables us to ensure that staff, have the skills needed.
- We work closely with external agencies to support staff training and development of expertise.
- We aim to ensure we have a variety of skills among our staff body and staff receive training when required.
- We identify training needs and call on the services of specialist providers in line with our school development plan as and when is needed.

What support and training is available to parents and carers?

- Parent learning support groups
- Informal parents coffee mornings/afternoons
- Training/home support offered by external agencies
- Signposting to external agency support groups
